

MISSION excellence

A unique perspective on team and organisational development

What We Do

Our interventions focus on:

- advanced planning and problem solving
- team and leadership development
- building high performance teams
- teamwork in high-risk environments
- achieving continuous improvement

And are delivered through a powerful blend of consultancy, training & development programmes, and high-impact conference events and presentations.

“Did you know... A routine fighter pilot mission requires a complex combination of intra- and inter-teamworking, together with outstanding leadership and execution. Individual fighter pilots have to deliver their mission whilst coping with almost constant information overload in a hostile operating environment, which is changing at around 600 miles per hour. Failure is not an option; mistakes cost lives.”

Who We Are

Mission Excellence is an organisational performance consultancy focused on improving our clients' ability to execute.

Consultants are predominantly former military fighter pilots, including several Red Arrows, the world famous RAF display team. We offer a unique perspective on high performance teams and organisations, and have personal first hand experience of what it actually takes to deliver in dynamic, pressured environments.

We are about “Operational Excellence” - that is, how to sustain outstanding performance and results.

Consultancy Services

Mission Excellence consultants focus on enabling organisations to develop powerful performance improvement strategies. Built on a proven track record and experience of delivering outstanding results under pressure, we offer a range of advisory services including strategic advice, and coaching and mentoring to senior executives and management teams.

High-impact Conference Events

Take your team's performance to the next level with one of our interactive seminars or keynote speakers:

Team Development Seminar

An engaging insight into high performance organisations delivered through an enthralling blend of video, multimedia presentations, real-life case studies and interactive group exercises. The half day seminar explores the world of the fighter pilot's mission, focusing on key transferable skills including teamwork, leadership and communication.

Deliverable worldwide, the seminar is tailored to, and aligned with, your corporate objectives, and is suitable for audiences from 10 to 1000.

Keynote Speakers

Inspire your team by listening to the experiences of one of our former Red Arrows. Perfect for conferences, team meetings or corporate events, our speakers offer a unique insight into the world famous display team that is both engaging and business focused.

Keynote topics cover leadership, high performance teams, leading virtual or matrix teams, and teamwork in high-risk environments.

Training & Development Programmes

Our development programmes combine theory with case studies, guest speakers and experiential learning. We equip and empower delegates with insights and tools to improve performance and deliver competitive advantage. Programmes include:

Mission Analysis

Advanced techniques to move from problem to solution for managers and decision makers.

Leadership Development

For managers and team leaders at all levels. Focused on the reality of empowerment, values and behaviour.

Team Development

For individuals and teams at all levels. Outcomes include the development of specific skills, for example briefing and debriefing.

Debriefing

A powerful tool for improving performance – a combination of assessment, coaching and feedback all rolled into one.

“Did you know... that the Red

Arrows sustain world-class results in spite of a third of the pilots moving on every year? Our unique insight clearly demonstrates the processes and behaviours that make this possible.”
